Heaven's Fishing Hole

For years the riverbank was where, your soul felt most at rest
Your heart was most content when there, with the fish and rod to test
But then your spirit came to rest, where the angels chose to roam
And once equipped with ten pound test, you made yourself at home.

The sky became your deep blue sea, the clouds became your shore.
And there for all eternity, you sat with friends galore.
Each angel was a fisherman, who had traded his pole,
golden wings and a game plan, At Heaven's fishing hole.

The tales you told about each catch, it's stature and it's girth,
Will live in memories unmatched, as days pass here on earth.
Until we meet again one day, upon God's golden sand.
We'll picture you, no other way, than with a pole in hand
